

The International Conference of 'The Baltic Forum'

Opportunities and costs of the "Eastern Partnership"

May 23-24, 2014

Baltic Beach Hotel, Jurmala, Latvia

PROGRAM

The EU program 'The Eastern Partnership' already has a marked impact on the configuration and balance of power in the Eurasian space, on the relations between Russia and the European Union, on the dynamics of the processes to the east of the EU borders.

For the countries involved, the program carries both benefits and problems. In the course of its implementation not only opportunities but also risks may increase. In the region encompassed by 'The Partnership' areas of chronic conflict persist, and its members in a forced or voluntarily manner have made or are making the choice of their further development between the two projects - the European and the Eurasian one. As evidenced by the dramatic events around Ukraine, new destabilizing factors are adding themselves as well, which may influence the situation on the territory of the former Soviet Union and in the world as a whole. This can not but strengthen the concern both in the EU and in the bordering countries, and that, in turn, in the given circumstances dictates the need to seek new compromises and agreements.
